New Science Center – Power Shut Down

April 11, 2018

Building Occupants of Miller, Chadbourne, and Horn Hall

This correspondence provides a status update for the New Science Center as related to the required power shutdown to perform emergency power testing and verification for the South Science Building as required by Massachusetts building code.

Work Activities: Power Shutdown for Emergency Power Test at Science Center South Building

Impact to Adjacencies:

- At approximately 1 PM on Tuesday, April 17th power will be shutoff on the feed that supplies power to the south building, Miller House, Horn Hall, and Chadbourne for an anticipated 2 hours to allow for emergency backup power testing of the generator system. Power will be restore as soon as possible following the completion of the test to the satisfaction of the local authorities having jurisdiction.
- We apologize for this inconvenience while we work to complete final inspections in conjunction with the impending opening of the Science Center South Addition.
